

QUALITY POLICY

STRACON seeks to be the leading provider of integrated mining and construction services. STRACON constantly seeks improvement in each aspect of its activities, through communication, innovation, agility and practicality.

To comply with this policy, STRACON is committed to the following:

- Ensuring not only compliance with the requirements agreed with the client, but also, to add value through contractual commitments and legal obligations.
- Establishing, documenting, maintaining and continuously improving its Quality Management System, which is aimed at achieving client's satisfaction, through the timely provision of profitable and fit-for-purpose services.
- Encouraging a process-focused approach and risk-based thinking in its operations.
- Encouraging the involvement, commitment and responsibility of personnel through appropriate training and development programs, in order to improve their competencies and performance to enhance services to its clients.
- Communicating the policies, standards and processes to all company employees and relevant stakeholders for their understanding and application.

This policy is supported by the Integrated Management System of STRACON, which is maintained, audited and reviewed on a regular basis to ensure its continuing suitability.
